In accordance with FAR 19.1307 Price Evaluation Preference for HUBZone Small Business Concerns, paragraph (b), a factor of 10 percent is added to the offer of all non-state of the concerns o											-smaii businesses to determine the lowest responsive and responsible offeror.
Cedars Electro-Mechanical, Inc and MAC, Inc the HUBZone small business concerns offers are more than 10 percent higher than the lowest responsive and responsible offeror, McKenney's Mechanical Contractors, a large business.
As a result of applying HUBZone Perference, W.B. Wallis & Company a nonHUBZone small business becomes the lowest responsive and responsible offeror.
However, since a nonHUBZone small business cannot benefit from the application of the HUBZone price evaluation preference, McKenney's Mechanical Contractors a large business concern displaces W.B. Wallis & Company a small business as the lowest responsive and responsible offeror.
